Instructor Spotlight

Lowell Huffman serves as the Director of Strategic Partnerships for 120Water. Lowell is responsible for collaborating and building strategic partnerships with EPC Firms, Associations, Product Manufacturers like Hach, Xylem, Brita and more, to strengthen the value chain and bring innovative solutions to utilities for water quality programs like LCR. Lowell served as the VP of Business Development for the National Retail Hardware Association for 11 years helping independent hardware businesses in rural communities throughout the US. Lowell has also worked for several start-up technology firms to help them grow and scale their solutions. He is working with many state associations to bring LCR education to the forefront in an effort to help utilities get ahead of the challenges with the new LCR Revisions.
